THE arrest and conviction of one man in Jackson county for illegal fishing has put several others on the anxious seat. There are probably a good many men who have been violating the fish law and now that some deputies are operating in this locality they begin to tremble. But they will get no sympathy from the public for they have not been acting the part of law abiding citizens. Every man who has any information concerning any unlawful fishing should make the same known. If the REPUBLICAN has the correct information it will be very dangerous for any man to take fish in an unlawful manner from White river this season.

He then went to Memphis where he spent two years and graduated from the Ho-pital College in 1901. His first medical experience was in El Paso, Texas where he had charge of a large sanitarium. He then accepted an offer from the British Government as physician and surgeon in South Africa during the Boer war, where he had an opportunity seldom given a young physician to practice surgery. After the expiration of his engagement in South Africa he visited England, where he had access to the hospitals in London, Liverpool, Manchester, and Edinburgh, Scotland. Upon his return to America he visited his parents, and then chose South Memphis, a fast growing suburb of Memphis, for a permanent home. His practice has been phenomenal and he is recognized as one of the leading physicians and surgeons of Memphis. His wife is a charming and cultured Southern lady and comes from an old and aristocratic family.

SHIRKING RESPONSIBILITY

The Governor Left Alone in His Law Enforcing Efforts.

Indianapolis, June 29.—There is a humorous side to the effort to prevent pool-selling, notwithstanding the seriousness of it. For instance, it seems as hard to locate men responsible for enforcement of the law as to find the elusive pea in the old-time shell game. First Mayor Holtzman gracefully dodged the issue when it was put squarely before him by the governor. Then Sheriff Sourbier quit after making arrests one day. The governor next appealed to the state board of agriculture to terminate the terms of the lease with the racing association, but word has been received from President Niblack of the board stating that he can't come to Indianapolis now, as he is detained by private business. So the governor seems at the end of his tether unless he finds a new way to carry out his wishes. The law against pool-selling is plain, but the local authorities seem to be proceeding on the ground that the public here wants the race meet and that the latter can't go on without the usual amount of gambling.

Interest here is intense in the probable course of Governor Hanly toward the Indianapolis Racing association. It is generally believed that he is no less determined than at the outset to stop pool-selling at the state fair grounds tracks. Up to this time the races were called for this afternoon he had not succeeded in his efforts, owing to the success of the various authorities in getting out from under their responsibility. The governor returned to his office today, and it is said that he found a letter there from Attorney General Miller containing an opinion that he cannot legally call out the militia in such cases unless the sheriff requests it. The sheriff in this case will make no such request. Many of the governor's friends are urging him to go over the attorney general's head and call out the militia regardless of all opinions to the contrary as to his right to do so. Officers of the racing association, who are, by the way, numbered among the most prominent men in Indianapolis, are afraid that they won't be able to hold the winning cards very long, as they realize that the governor is a man who holds onto a proposition whenever he thinks he is right. It would not be surprising if the bookmakers should run into a company of soldiers before the meeting adjourns.

There is a chance that the primaries tomorrow for the nomination of a Republican city ticket may be full of excitement and corruption because of the unusual powers vested in the inspectors as the result of an opinion submitted to Chairman Metzger by five attorneys, setting forth the qualifications for voters. The substance of the opinion rendered by the attorneys is that anyone who voted for a majority of the candidates on the ticket is entitled to a vote, but the question of which election is to be regarded as the "preceding election" is left in the dark. The attorneys added, however, that the inspectors have an absolute right to use their own discretion in accepting the word of a voter that he affiliated with the party at the preceding election. They may even refuse to accept a ballot accompanied by the affidavit prescribed by law.

The members of the epileptic hospital commission, consisting of Dr. L. L. Whitesides of Franklin, Ezra Mattingly of Washington and Dr. S. I. Brown of Knox, met at the statehouse today to take up preliminary consideration of the sites offered for the institution. Mishawaka, Franklin, Connersville, Henrysville, Shoals, Huntington, South Bend, North Judson and Crawfordsville will offer locations. The commission and Governor Hanly will make a trip over them as soon as the location for the southeastern Indiana hospital for the insane is selected.

Watchman Shot Burglar.

Huntington, Ind., June 29.—A burglar was discovered in the Lesh Bros' store at Markle at 2 a. m. by Lee Laturner, night watchman, who notified three other persons, and a guard was thrown around the building. As the burglar appeared he was shot in the back, and when within reach Laturner grappled with him and threw him down, but he was compelled to release his hold after he had been shot in the wrist. The burglar fired three shots as he made his way to his buggy and drove away. Only $5 was taken from the store.

Molly Pitcher's Memory.

Carlisle, Pa., June 29.—The grave of Molly Pitcher, the heroine of the battle of Monmouth, was appropriately marked yesterday amid impressive ceremonies, which were in charge of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. At the request of the latter organization the war department at Washington furnished a cannon from one of the arsenals in Massachusetts, and this now surmounts her grave.

Elder, Greensburg, chief mustering officer; E. H. Wolfe, Rushville, chief of staff; W. D. Green, Indianapolis, color bearer.

Accompanying is a circular letter that is sent to all the posts in the State asking that efforts be made to increase the membership. The letter says in part:

"The Grand Army of the Republic was never more honored than at the present time, but its mission is not complete. We are comrades, not for personal benefit to ourselves, but to enable us individually the better to do good to others who stood at our side in the shock of battle. There are far too many such, not enrolled with us, and, therefore not within the full reach of the benefits of our order. They lose the advantage and inspiration of fraternal associations which the post room affords. The relief fund of the post is not sure to reach them in their distress. They do not go with us to visit the sick, to feed the hungry, or to bury the dead comrade. Our badge, which Logan and Grant and Sherman and Sheridan prized, does not decorate their breasts as the insignia of honor for their valiant service."

"No veteran joins the Grand Army of the Republic and enters into its work in the spirit of true comradeship, without being lifted to a loftier manhood, and to the plane of better citizenship."

Moves To North Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. M. Harsch are moving to North Vernon today, though they will continue their business here. Mr. Harsch will continue his brokerage office here and has opened one at North Vernon and will open another at Madison at once. The move to North Vernon is to put him more convenient to the three places. All these offices will be conducted for the Odell people of Cincinnati with whom Mr. Harsch has been associated since he opened the office here. The office here will be in charge of Mr. Harsch's brother but he will be here frequently himself as the trains run very conveniently. Mr. and Mrs. Harsch will also continue their work as optometrists in which line they have done a large and successful business. Seymour regrets to have Mr. and Mrs. Harsch move away but trusts that they may return to make this place their permanent home.

In your house in the shape of good, honest, thoroughly seasoned, and therefore damp-resisting, lumber, always pays in the long run. Less repairs, for one thing; fewer eyesores in the shape of warped, twisted and generally shrunk-out-of-shape window and doors for another. Honest lumber awaits your call at this yard.
